Greetings to the Graduates

The pomp and ceremony of convocation exercises formally mark an important life transition for you, our graduates. Surrounded by proud families, friends, teachers and mentors, you may now move forward with confidence, having earned our admiration and praise.

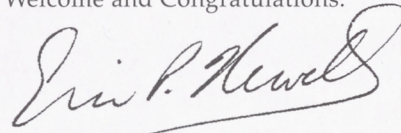

Each of you chose to follow a rigorous intellectual path and each has proved worthy. Today, you mark an important milestone in your life while we, your community, mark an important one in ours. Ninety-eight years ago, the University of Alberta was founded on a scrubby piece of riverbank by men and women who believed this province should be built on a foundation of knowledge.

At that time, our founding president, Henry Marshall Tory, promised that the knowledge within these walls would not remain here, but would flow forever outward in service to our community. Today, you join more than 200,000 University of Alberta alumni worldwide in fulfilling that promise.

Since those first classes back in 1908, our community has grown beyond the borders of Alberta to encompass the world in one global community. Learning to live peacefully and prosperously in this community will require leaders and citizens of vision, commitment and drive. More than ever, the world needs leaders and citizens like the people you have become.

While today may seem like an ending, it is not. Today is a beginning, a first step along a new path. You will continue to grow, to learn and to contribute. You will also continue to be a life-long member of our University of Alberta community.

Welcome and Congratulations.

Eric P Newell, OC, LLD (Hon)
Chancellor

Greetings from Faculty and Staff

Universities began as small collections of scholars who worked together to preserve and advance knowledge. Students came to study with them and, in due course, an administrative structure arose to provide system and recognition for those studies. This ancient structure is preserved at the University of Alberta, with the faculty and the students providing the core of the University's purpose: teaching and the advancement of knowledge.

The faculty and staff congratulate you, the graduates, on the successful completion of your present studies which is recognized by the degrees to which you are admitted today. We hope your present knowledge provides a sound base for an education which will continue throughout a rewarding life. To quote Honorary Degree Recipient Tommy Banks: "Try to be a good person. You will be amazed how rewarding it is."

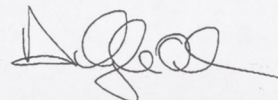

Congratulations from the Faculty and Staff!

During the past few years, you have dedicated a great deal of time and effort to reach this important milestone - your convocation from the University of Alberta. Through that hard work, you have not only earned your degree, but you have laid the foundation upon which you will build your future.

I hope you look back fondly at your university days with a sense of pride and accomplishment. Remember this achievement when you tackle the challenges that lie ahead, whether they be in the work force, further education, or personal endeavours. Your post secondary education is a key that will open many doors for you. It's also proof that if you set your mind to something, the end goal will never be out of your reach.

On behalf of the Government of Alberta, I congratulate all of the University of Alberta's graduates from the Class of 2004. The future is yours. My best wishes to each of you for continued success no matter which path you choose.

Dr Lyle Oberg, Minister
Alberta Learning

Lady Mary Soames

On Wednesday, October 7, 2004, a Special Convocation was held to confer the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws upon Lady Mary Soames.

Lady Mary Soames, Dame Commander of the British Empire is the youngest, and only surviving child of Winston and Clementine Churchill. She was born in 1922 and brought up at Chartwell in Kent, being educated at day schools. In 1941, at the age of eighteen she joined the ATS (Auxiliary Territorial Service) and served in mixed anti-aircraft batteries in England and NorthWest Europe. She accompanied her father as his ADC on several of his wartime overseas journeys. In 1945 she was awarded the MBE (military). In 1947 she married Captain Christopher Soames (born 1920) Coldstream Guards; later Lord Soames, PC; GCMG; CH; who passed away in 1987. Mary Soames participated fully in her husband's political and diplomatic career, campaigning in six elections, and accompanying him to Paris, Brussels and Southern Rhodesia.

Mary Soames has long been an advocate for the values of international peace and education. She has served as Justice of the Peace (1960-74), UK Chair of the International Year of the Child (1979) and Chair of the Royal National Theatre (1989-95). In 1980, she was appointed Dame Commander of the British Empire. She was Chair of Trustees of the Winston Churchill Memorial Trust (1991-2002) and is Patron of the International Churchill Society and the Churchill Centre. She is an Honorary Fellow of Churchill College, Cambridge and has received Honorary degrees from Sewanee University, Sussex University and the University of Kent.

In 1979 Mary Soames published a life of her mother Clementine Churchill which won the Yorkshire Post Prize for the Best First Work, and a Wolfson Prize for History. She also has numerous other publications to her name including A Churchill Family Album (1982); The Profligate Duke (1987); Winston Churchill His Life as a Painter (1990), Speaking for Themselves - letters between Winston and Clementine Churchill edited by Mary Soames (1998); and in the United States, Winston and Clementine: The Personal Letters of the Churchills (1999); Clementine Churchill: The revised and updated biography (2002).

Mary Soames now lives in London and is currently working on her memoirs. There are five Soames children and (to date) 12 grandchildren.

The University of Alberta Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of an honorary degree to Lady Mary Soames:

Circulus sapientiae: Circle of Wisdom, introduction and notes by Elizabeth Thompson, with English translations by W.R. Johnson. Vermont, Janus Press, 2001. No. 16 of 120 copies. As a visual illustration of songs by mediaeval visionary abbess Hildegard von Bingen (1098-1179), Circulus sapientiae (Circle of Wisdom) was created in honour of the abbess' nine hundredth birthday and inspired by her music. Latin texts of twelve songs from the Symphony of the Harmony of Celestial Revelations anchor the seven-spread accordion binding. A CD of hymns from the symphony, performed by Anima, a Vermont-based ensemble dedicated to the study and performance of mediaeval music, is included. The dynamic pop-up book is accompanied by a booklet containing an English translation.

Dr Sima Simar

Working under life-threatening conditions for the past two decades to advance the lives of women and children in Afghanistan, Dr Sima Samar is internationally recognized as an outstanding advocate for education and human rights.

Born in 1957 in Ghazani, Afghanistan, Dr Samar was the first woman from the Hazara ethnic minority to graduate with a medical degree from Kabul University. In 1987 she established a hospital for women, which opened in 1989. The hospital was staffed by women on the Pakistan/Afghanistan border, in Quetta, Pakistan.

Dr Sima Samar was the former Deputy Prime Minister and Minister for Women's Affairs in the post-Taliban Afghan government. She is now chair of the Afghanistan Independent Human Rights Commission. Dr Samar also founded and directs the Shuhada Organization, which operates an extraordinary network of hospitals, clinics and schools dedicated to improving the lives of Afghan women and children. Shuhada also assists in the reconstruction and development of Afghanistan.

Through education projects, medical training, work programs, schools, relief organizations, public service, and human rights investigations, her efforts have made a positive impact on the lives of thousands of people. She has received worldwide recognition for her relentless work, including the 1994 Ramon Magsaysay Award for Community Leadership for acting courageously to heal the sick and instruct the young among the Afghan refugee community in Pakistan and in her war-torn homeland. In 2003, Dr Samar received the inaugural Perdita Huston Human Rights Award sponsored by the United Nations Association of the National Capital Area in Washington, DC. She is also the recipient of the 2002 John Humphrey Freedom Award and the 2004 John Mann Award for Health and Human Rights.

In addition to saving lives, Dr Samar is laying a new foundation for the future by training a generation of female doctors and medical workers. Her record of accomplishment and dedication to justice confirm her status as one of the leading agents of change in the world.

The University of Alberta Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of an honorary degree to Dr Sima Samar:

Woolf, Virginia. A Room of One's Own and Other Essays. Selected and Introduced by Hermione Lee. London: The Folio Society, 2000.

This beautiful new edition of Woolf's classic essays is illustrated with coloured reproductions of paintings by noted artists of the author's circle—including her sister, Vanessa Bell. The unique binding in full morocco leather with inlays of various colours is by the talented young English design binder Andrew Brown. The blocks of colour are connected to each other by black tooled lines and represent to the binder the various compartments and interconnectedness of Woolf's mind.

Dr Charles Richard Harington

A distinguished graduate of our own institution, Dr C Richard Harington is a pioneer and leader in the study of Canadian ice age vertebrate fossils and their environments. His research has assisted in both the interpretation of human activities in the past and the prediction of future climatic change.

Born in Calgary, Dr Harington received Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degrees from the University of Alberta, and a Master of Science degree from McGill University in Montreal. In 1977, he was awarded a PhD from the University of Alberta in zoology and geology, specializing in vertebrate paleontology. His thesis for this degree was on Pleistocene mammals of the Yukon Territory.

Dr Harington is Curator Emeritus of Quarternary Zoology and a Research Associate at the Canadian Museum of Nature. He also is an Adjunct Professor of Earth Sciences at the University of Waterloo. He planned and directed the National Museum of Natural Sciences Climatic Change Project, the first long-term multidisciplinary program on climatic change in Canada covering the last 20,000 years. With the help of First Nations peoples as well as individual farmers, geologists, and museum professionals across Canada, he expanded the national collection of Canadian ice age vertebrates from under 100 specimens in 1965 to over 40,000 today. The collection is now one of the finest in North America.

During his work with the Canadian Wildlife Service, Dr Harington pioneered the study of polar bear denning ecology and represented Canada and the International Union for the Conservation of Nature at the First International Scientific Meeting on the Polar Bear. He chaired the National Museum of Natural Sciences Publications Committee and served on the Editorial Advisory Committee of Canadian Geographic. Dr Harington received the Massey Medal in 1987, and is a fellow of both the Royal Geographical Society and the Arctic Institute of North America.

Dr C Richard Harington now lives in Gloucester, Ontario. He has done an outstanding and enthusiastic job of bringing the world of ice age mammals to the attention of the Canadian general public.

The University of Alberta Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of an honorary degree to Dr Charles Richard Harington:

Audubon, John James. Quadrupeds of North America. New York: Published by V.G. Audubon, 1849-1851-1854. Three volumes.

The Quadrupeds was first published in three elephant folio volumes between 1845 and 1848. The present edition includes all 155 brilliantly hand-coloured lithographed plates of the original folio edition reduced by means of the camera lucida. Audubon's sons, John W. and Victor were responsible for seeing it through the press as the author was in declining health during its preparation and died in January of 1951 before the project was completed. Despite many publication difficulties, the result was the most naturalistic depiction of American mammals ever done.

Congratulations Graduates

The list of candidates for degrees, certificates, and diplomas appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically. The winner of the most prestigious award in each faculty, if attending, is presented first.

History of Convocation

Magna Congregatio

In the eleventh century, a new vitality quickened all aspects of the civilization of Western Europe. The creative forces thus unleashed soon found expression in new institutions, and of these the university bids fair to be the most enduring. The modern university is the lineal descendant of the university of the Middle Ages. Its purposes and organization, even much of its ceremonial, are medieval in origin.

The medieval university was originally called a studium generale, that is, a place of learning to which teachers and students from anywhere resorted. The first studia were at Salerno, Bologna, and Paris. These came into existence spontaneously and developed through the twelfth century as the needs of the time and their inner necessities dictated. In the thirteenth century these spontaneous associations crystallized into guilds or corporations endowed by Church and State with specific privileges which guaranteed the internal autonomy necessary for the vocation of study. To these corporations was increasingly applied the word universitas denoting the entire group of those responsible for the transmission of higher learning and the pursuit of knowledge.

By the beginning of the 14th century, two forms of university organization had appeared. At Bologna, primarily a higher school of canon and civil law to which came men experienced in ecclesiastical and secular administration, the control of the studium generale passed to the students; hence Bologna was a universitas scholarum. On the other hand in Paris and Oxford, whose dominant faculty was the Faculty of Arts, the studium emerged under the direction of a guild of teachers, a universitas magistrorum. Through its own officials, notably the chancellor (once symbol of external control and by now of internal autonomy), the guild of teachers developed its courses of instruction, administered its own affairs and admitted to its company only those who had met its intellectual standards. The University of Alberta stands in the tradition of Paris and Oxford.

Originally the goal of the medieval student was certification by the guild of teachers that he also was qualified to teach (the licentia docendi). With the passage of time the student's progress through the curriculum was marked by ceremonies which signified his successful attainment of a certain level (gradus or in modern language, degree) of competence. The Bachelor had completed his apprenticeship in the Faculty of Arts. The Master was now qualified to teach in that Faculty and was thus incorporated into the universitas magistrorum. The Doctor was one who, having obtained the mastership, had successfully completed the curriculum of one of the "higher" faculties (in the Middle Ages, law, medicine, and theology) and was now qualified to teach in those faculties. Inevitably the degrees of the universitas did more than admit their holders to the teaching profession. They served the wider social purpose of demonstrating their holders' fitness to serve the entire medieval community.

Today's ceremony stems from the medieval tradition. The procession of the guild of teachers, whose solemn assembly, or convocation, is the modern equivalent of the medieval magna congregatio of all faculties, is lead by the Chancellor and the Chief Marshal carrying the mace, the symbol of the University's corporate authority. The academic gowns, hoods, and caps, once the sober, disciplined dress of secular clergy and teachers, declare in their various designs and colors the academic qualifications of the Faculty. The citations and presentations by the Faculty to the Chancellor attest to him and to society the degree of proficiency attained by the students of the University. There follows a visible and public act whereby the universitas magistrorum, acting through its Chancellor, confers upon the students the appropriate degree. It is the act, not a certificate, which constitutes the validity of the degree bestowed. More, the formula, "I admit you" and the placing of the students' hands within the hands of the Chancellor and his associates, bind the students in the appropriate degree to the universitas magistrorum. The students thereafter bear for all time the mark of their association with this University. They have received what the University has been and presently is. Because they bear in themselves the promise of the future, they are what the University hopes to be. Despite its solemnity, convocation is a joyous occasion.

The history of academic dress reaches far back into early days of the oldest universities. A statute of 1321 required that all "Doctors, Licentiates, and Bachelors" of the University Coimbra wear gowns. In England, in the second half of the fourteenth century, the statutes of certain colleges forbade "excess apparel" and prescribed the wearing of a long gown. It is still a controversial question as to whether academic dress finds its sources chiefly in ecclesiastical or in civilian dress. Gowns may have been counted necessary for warmth in the unheated buildings frequented by medieval scholars. Hoods seem to have served to cover the tonsured head until superseded for that purpose by the skull cap. This was itself displaced by a headdress more or less like one or another of those now recognized as "academic." (The mortar board - the hard, square cap commonly used as academic headdress today - evolved from the softer, more flexible "square cap" introduced in England about 1490. It is named for the square board on a handle used by stone masons for holding the mixed mortar to be applied to walls.) Both Cambridge and Oxford have made academic dress a matter of university control to the extent of even its minor details and have repeatedly issued revised regulations. In Laudian days in Oxford it was prescribed that any tailor who departed from authorized design "even by a nail's breadth" in the making of any article of collegiate costume was to be punished by the vice-chancellor of the university.

Academic dress at the University of Alberta generally follows the prescription of Cambridge University in the design of the gown, and that of Oxford University in the design of the hood. See the Academic Dress page in this program for a detailed description of the academic dress at this institution.

In addition to the apparel worn by holders of degrees conferred by the University of Alberta, a collection of apparel specific to particular offices has also been developed. The President of the University wears a green gown faced with gold braid trim and lining and a green cap with a gold tassel. The Chancellor and Chancellors Emeriti wear gowns of teal blue with silver trim and black caps with silver tassels. The gowns of the senior officials bear an embroidered crest of the University. University Governors and Senators wear stoles bearing the crest of the University over their gowns: gold for Governors and green for Senators. The University Registrar wears a green gown with gold trim on the sleeves.

Graduates and staff of the University of Alberta who wish to purchase their own academic apparel are invited to contact the Convocation Officer in the Office of the Registrar and Student Awards.

The University Coat of Arms

Quaecumque Vera

On November 15, 1909, a motion by the faculty recommended to the Senate the adoption by the University of the provincial coat of arms, with the addition of an open book above the shield and the motto Lux et Lex; the words "University of Alberta" were to be attached as might seem fit. The present motto was substituted in January 1911 for the one originally proposed. In 1950 the representation of the coat of arms was altered to conform better to the principles of heraldic design but these arms were never actually registered.

In 1994 a new coat of arms incorporating a number of traditional symbols associated with the University or the Province, or with learning, was officially granted by the Canadian Heraldic Authority. In non-technical language, it consists of the following elements:

Shield: a representation of the topography of Alberta (wheat fields, hills, rivers, and the Rocky Mountains) derived from the provincial coat of arms, and a book symbolizing learning.

Crest: a Great Horned Owl, the provincial bird and a traditional symbol of wisdom.

Supporters: a pronghorn, taken from the provincial coat of arms, and a golden bear, long the University mascot, standing on a mound of wild roses, the floral emblem of Alberta.

Motto: Quaecumque vera ("Whatsoever things are true," Philippians 4:8)

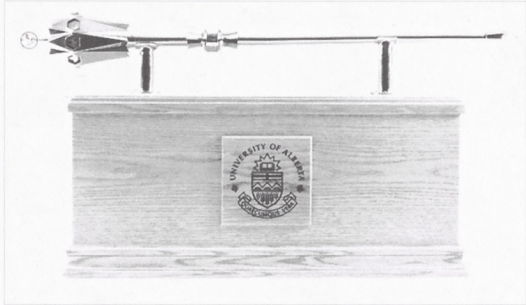

The arms are copyrighted and may not be used without permission of the Board of Governors. The name of the University is similarly protected.

University Traditions

The University of Alberta Mace was designed and crafted specifically for the University as a gift from Dr Francis Phillip Galbraith, Chancellor of the University of Alberta from 1964 to 1970. Michael Galbraith presented the Mace on behalf of his father on May 26, 1970.

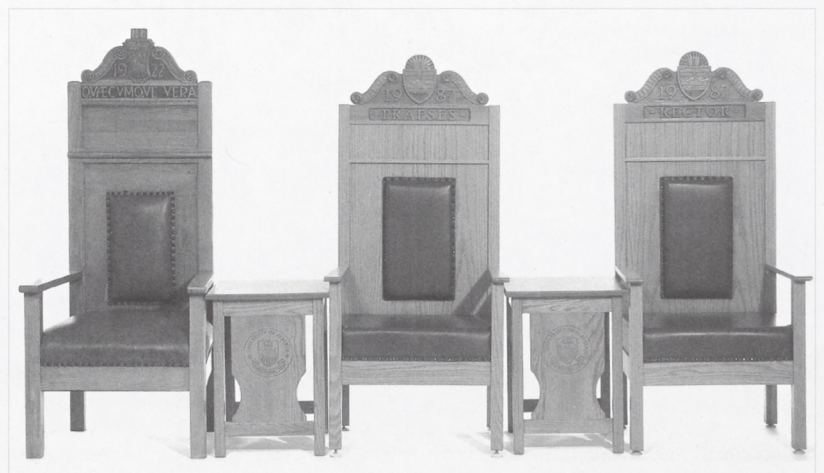

Among its elements are the Star of Saint Thomas Aquinas, the Patron Saint of Scholars; the Wild Rose of Alberta; the Maple Leaf; and the separate charges which make up the University's Emblem. The University motto "Quaecumque Vera" ("Whatsoever Things Are True" Phil 4:8) encircles the staff. The Mace is made of sterling silver which was rhodium plated after the insertion of the various enamelled shields which make up its elements. A special electroplate process was used to apply 24 karat gold to other parts of the Mace.

It was intended that the Mace should be modern in appearance but with medieval origins. The preponderance of visual weight at the top of the staff and the rather complex section through the metalwork at this point are reminiscent of the use of the mace as a weapon, defensive or aggressive.

The Mace is carried before the Chancellor, or Vice-Chancellor, in procession and rests on its stand in full view of the assembly during Convocation. Centuries ago the Mace was a symbol of authority over life and death. Today it represents power - but the power of knowledge and the importance of the University in the community.

The Chancellor's Chair was presented to the University of Alberta as a gift from the 1922 graduating class. It is made of solid oak with a padded leather back and seat. Above the padded-leather back is carved the University motto "Quaecumque Vera" together with the class year, 1922, and the University emblem.

In 1987, the family and friends of Dr Charles Malcolm Macleod, Chair of the Board of Governors from 1950 to 1966, presented a memorial gift to the University of an oak stand for the University of Alberta Mace and two additional chairs for use by the President and the Chair of the Board of Governors at Convocation.

Doctorate Degrees

Doctors' gowns (PhD, DMus, and EdD) conform to the Intercollegiate Code in design. They are made of black material and the velvet trim on the sleeves is Philosophy Blue for the PhD and DMus, and Education Light Blue for the EdD. Doctors' hoods conform to the Intercollegiate Code in shape, size, and color. They are made of black material to match the gown, and have a full lining of gold satin with a six-inch green satin chevron. The velvet trim distinguishes the two degrees and matches the velvet trim on the gown's sleeves. There is a narrow green piping where the gold lining joins the black material. Mortarboards are the standard black trencher shape with black tassels, which are worn forward and to the left.

Honorary Doctorates

Honorary Doctors of Laws (LLD), Letters (DLitt), and Science (DSc) wear a scarlet robe faced with white silk. Hoods are made in the Cambridge form of scarlet silk with a full lining of white silk. Caps are black velvet with a gold tassel.
